For what purpose will Personal Information be collected, and how is it collected?

Personal Information provided by you

We need to collect Personal Information from you so that we can provide and you can receive our Services in relation to the policy that we have entered into, for example when You apply for one of our products or make a claim. However, you should be aware that we will also process your Personal Information to comply with a legal obligation (amongst others) or where we have a legitimate business objective (such as ensuring that we deliver our Services and develop our products in a way that meets our customers' needs). However, we will take all reasonable steps to ensure that we only collect the minimum Personal Information that is necessary to achieve this objective and will not use it for any other purpose not envisaged in this Privacy Notice or as otherwise notified to you. If we do not collect your Personal Information it will severely restrict our ability to provide our Services to you.

Your Personal Information will be collected in a variety of ways, for example, by use of our website, completion of an application form, or completion of a claim form and sent by various methods including by post, email and by telephone.

The Personal Information you provide to us will include:

- Basic personal identifiers, including (but not limited to) your name, address, email address, bank account details and date of birth.
- Additional lifestyle information, for example relating to your hobbies or occupation.
- Sensitive Personal Information (also known as Special Category Data), including health information, for the purpose of arranging, underwriting, administering your policy, administering a claim, and complying with an obligation under your insurance contract. Where we collect special category personal data from you, we will only request the information required for the specific purpose in accordance with the Data Protection Act 2018 Schedule 1 Part 2 Substantial Public Interest Conditions.
- Information on family members of a nature listed above, when they are entitled to the Services We provide. Where applicable, please ensure that the family members have had sight of this Privacy Notice.

Information from other sources

We may also acquire your Personal Information from third-party companies who operate in accordance with UK data protection legislation. We will only take receipt of such Personal Information where you will have already submitted your Personal Information to these companies and have specifically given permission to allow them to pass it on to other companies that provide similar or complementary products and services to us. We may also obtain information from credit agencies, public sources, social media, and similar online resources.

Information We collect through our website ('cookies')

We collect certain types of information from your web browser via 'cookies' when You use our website. To find out more information please refer to Our Cookie Policy.

Providing information on behalf of another

If you are required to provide the personal information of another person connected with your policy, you should ensure that those individuals are made aware that you will be providing their personal information to us, provide them with a copy of this Notice, and ensure that they are happy for their personal information to be disclosed to us and processed in accordance with this Notice.

Parents, guardians and sponsors

If you are a parent, guardian or sponsor of a child policyholder or a child policy applicant then this Privacy Notice, unless otherwise stated, applies to your personal information and to the personal information about the child.

How do we store Information and how is it protected?

We will keep your personal information up-to-date and store it securely on internal systems that can only be accessed by authorised members of staff. We will put appropriate technical measures in place to protect it from loss, misuse, unauthorised access and disclosure, and not collect or retain excessive amounts of personal information.

We control logical system access through standard username and password controls across multiple systems. To protect against account misuse, we have automatic account locking on failed login attempts with near real time reporting to the IT admin team and the input of a network administrator needed to re-enable access to the locked account.

The Personal Information that we collect from you may be transferred to, or processed or stored in any country, including those outside the European Economic Area. To ensure we meet our obligation to adequately protect Personal Information We will:

- Ensure the purposes and processing associated with any such transfer will comply with all applicable data protection regulations in the UK and EU.
- Ensure that any parties to whom we pass your information agrees to treat your Personal Information with the same level of protection as required by the data protection regulations in the UK and EU. You can contact us for more information about the specific protections in place in relation to any such transfer.

By submitting your Personal Information to us, you acknowledge that your Personal Information will be transferred, stored, or processed as explained within this Privacy Notice.

How long do we keep your Personal Information?

National Friendly will only keep your personal information for as long as it is necessary to comply with applicable laws.

Please request a copy of our data retention schedule if you would like to see our full retention periods.

These periods may be extended if, for example, there is a legal dispute concerning the terms of your policy or if we are otherwise required by law to keep the information for a longer period. We will notify you if we need to extend the period for which we keep your information. In certain cases, we may anonymise your information, along with the information of our other members, for record-keeping purposes, statistical analysis and to improve our business practices and computer systems. Once anonymised, you are no longer identifiable from the information we hold about you. This anonymised information is kept indefinitely.

When your personal information is no longer required, we will:

- erase your personal information; or
- archive your data so that it is beyond use.

Keeping Personal Information up to date

Please let us know if your Personal Information changes as it is important that the information we hold about you is accurate and up to date. We will not be responsible for any errors or Personal Information losses because of not being informed of a change in Personal Information.

Your rights regarding Personal Information

You have a legal right to:

- request a copy of your personal data.
- request erasure of your personal data or to restrict processing in accordance with data protection laws. We may need to retain some or all of your personal data to provide you with our Services (or to keep a record that we have done so)
- request that your data is corrected where it is wrong.
- request that we suspend the processing of your personal data, for example if you want us to establish whether it is accurate or the reason for processing it.
- object to the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances.
- object to direct marketing. Where National Friendly uses your data to send you marketing communications, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.
- request your personal information to be transferred to another organisation.
- complain to the Information Commissioner's Office if your privacy rights are violated, or if you have suffered as a result of unlawful processing of your personal information.

You are not required to pay any charge for exercising your rights. If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you.

Changes to Our Privacy Notice

We will review and amend this Privacy Notice periodically. When this notice is amended, we will not usually inform you of the changes we make, unless these changes are likely to have a material impact on your Data Protection rights.
